

We are hiring!

Director of the Minnesota Geological Survey

Job code "358704"

Director

Minimum Requirements

- Full time
- University of MN benefits
- Research Director 1 job classification
- Off-campus office in St. Paul
- Friendly office community
- Estimated starting salary $130k - $150k
- Possible tenure

- BA/BS degree in geology (or related field)
- Minimum 12 years experience coordinating research in geosciences in an academic, laboratory, government, or corporate environment
- Demonstrated success in supervising and leadership
- Demonstrated ability to secure and manage multiple funding streams
- Effective communication skills among diverse audiences
- Experience developing and maintaining interagency and collaborative partnerships

Preferred Requirements

- Advanced degree in geology (or related field)
- Knowledge and understanding of the mission and impact of state geological surveys
- Experience/familiarity with the geology of Minnesota and/or Great Lakes region
- Experience in developing and implementing a strategic plan for an organization
- Experience developing partnerships/collaborations with historically underrepresented groups/organizations

Job Duties

How to apply

- Visit the University of Minnesota "Find a Job" Page
- Click "External Candidates" if you are not a current employee of UMN, or "U of M employees" if you are
- Search for job code "358704"
- Click "Apply for Job" and complete all application materials including curriculum vitae, cover letter, and diversity statement
- Applications will be accepted until 1/17/24

- Scientific and administrative leader of the MGS
- Maintain and augment research programs and service to the state
- Preserve records of the state's mineral and water resources data
- Provide geologic information and evaluations to government agencies and the public
- Maintain and enhance MGS reputation for objective, unbiased, high-quality science and related public service
- Provide leadership, planning, and oversight of finances and funding for MGS
- Work closely with University administration in presenting proposals to the State Legislature
- Serve as Minnesota's delegate to the Association of American State Geologists
- Foster organizational diversity, equity, and inclusion